Characters

"There is a very clear weekly pattern. Saturday is the strongest consumption day at approximately 296 hours, while Monday is the weakest at approximately 115 hours

BrightTV should develop different content strategies according to this viewing behaviour.

How can subscribers base grow?

1.Youth:

introduce more programmes on their bracket

2.Live events:

promote more live events and offer free previews

3.Regional growth:

offer local content and collaborate with upcoming stars

4.Distinct users:

offer Q&A sessions on social media and get what users need

Recommendations

My analysis identifies three immediate opportunities for BrightTV. First, the company should focus on converting its strongest viewing segments into loyal subscribers. Second, it should address the significant Monday consumption gap through targeted programming and engagement. Third, BrightTV should use high-performing live and event content as an acquisition and engagement opportunity.
